Landscape Architect / Project Manager

Full-Time Position

Tucson is an energetic, forward-thinking city that still likes to be called the “Old Pueblo”. We’re known for a positive urban vibe and outdoor culture. Tucson is home to four mountain ranges for trail running, rock climbing, stargazing & bird watching, and we’re a cyclist’s paradise of 131 miles of bike trails. We’re an arts mecca of galleries, museums, theater and music – and the 1st U.S. UNESCO City of Gastronomy.

Wheat Design Group (WDG) knows southern Arizona, and for over 40 years our work in Tucson has defined the landscape of our city. WDG has been a women-owned business since its founding, and we take pride in our staff and in the extensive knowledge that we have in designing the urban desert landscapes we are known for.

We create innovative and sustainable landscapes that enrich our local environment in ways that connect people, vegetation, and wildlife for public and private clients, including the Arizona Dept. of Transportation, Pima County, City of Tucson, and the University of Arizona.
